IV. Springfest Security Solutions – Mike Kraft

In many ways, Springfest was a success this year. Hundreds of parishioners came together to make it successful. Security was a big issue and was the reason for many of the changes this year. We had a lot of tension the week before Springfest. However, we had a lot of support from the police and city officials. The Sheriffs and Minnesota Gang Force were state-funded. Thousands of people in the area and surrounding communities came to Springfest. The wrap-up meeting will be June 23rd. Please let the committee know of any suggestions. We have built the foundation this year, and we will continue next year.

V. Objectives 2008-2010 – Clyde Schultz

Clyde presented the four objectives. Once he has all e-mails from the commission chairs, the objectives and details will be sent to all commission chairs.

VI. Epiphany Diner – Rhonda Dillon

The menu has been approved. They are now waiting for approval to open the Monday before the Fair opening with limited hours and menu items to serve the workers. The architectural designs have been submitted to the fair for approval. The committee is looking into doing some interior decorating and rearranging of tables. They are planning to tear down the front walls and have three garage doors in the front with glass so they can be closed if cold, but the patrons can still see in and out. There will also be bistro seating out front.

The menu includes food that can be take and go, such as wings, wraps, burgers, and chicken sandwiches. It is necessary to change the menu due to the changing clientele. The dinners are not as desirable to the changing demographics. Breakfast will have all you can eat pancakes, and the rest of the menu will remain pretty much the same.

The State Fair will promote us for the early opening. They have also authorized adding us to the blue book. The architectural approval is just a formality. We expect approval any day. The fair would like the wrap-up on the exterior by July 15th. The builder needs a two-week notice to begin construction. The construction will take three days, and then the garage doors will be put in.

The question was raised regarding the diner not being eco-friendly with the takeout materials. These were just too expensive for this year.

Chuck and Rhonda Dillon were commended for all of their hard work with the diner.

VII. Leadership Training – Clyde Schultz

Leadership training will be the second Tuesday of August. It would be beneficial to break out in the individual commissions at that time. Finance, Community Life and Liturgy all felt they would value some time.

VIII. Vocation Committee – Mike Sopyck

The Vocations Committee would like to be moved to the Liturgy Commission. The plan would be to present to the council to discuss. When a person enters the priesthood, it is a sacrament so it should fall under Liturgy; also the induction is celebrated in a Mass. Father Zehren stated other sacraments – Confirmation, Communion, and Baptism – are all celebrated at a liturgy. The Faith Formation that prepares for the sacrament makes them fall under Education.

Clyde suggested the commissions work together to satisfy the needs of the Vocations Committee. The Vocations Committee consists of six to seven members whose role is to promote vocations through education. Eric stated that where they are now is a good place, but they need to involve Liturgy, Stewardship, and other Commissions to help promote vocations.

IX. Adjournment / Closing Prayer

The meeting was concluded at 9:30 p.m. The next meeting will be Tuesday, September 9th, at 8:30 p.m.
